We are responsible for our own actions on the job and we are all part of the team, actively participating in a program designed for continuously improving safety performance and maintaining a safe work environment. We all need to maintain safe actions and continue to build upon positive safety attitudes.

An ongoing personal commitment to the prevention of accidents and injuries is important to the safety of everyone at our work sites

All employees are encouraged to communicate ways for improving Q-HSE to their manager, crew leader, or safety contacts with new or fresh initiatives which help make Q-HSE work for all of us.
